A strong relationship with Volvo, the Volvo V60 contract, and a focus on managing customers' logistics activities and entire supply chain are some of the factors that contributed to DFDS Logistics Ghent's award for 'strongest growing business' in the category 'large organisations'. The award was given by business magazine 'Trends' last Friday.

Luc Geysen, Managing Director in Ghent for Logistics, says: "Congratulations on this recognition and thank you to the Ghent team. In the Ghent Logistics office, about 55 colleagues manage, among other services, the trailer business from Benelux/France to and from Scandinavia, and warehousing activities. We are active throughout many industries, but mainly carry raw material for production sites in the trailers.

"We also focus on warehousing and being a fourth party logistics provider in the Ghent Port area for different types of customers such as automotive, steel, packaging, and working through the industry pillar of our Win23 strategy."
